Work

Goalie App, Product Design

I designed a goal tracker app in Figma which i intend to develop . The design was based of paper wireframes I had made using a mix of a human centered design approach and an optimised version of the Google design sprint process to come up with a design that is easy to understand & functional.

Google chrome home redesign, Product Design

I redesigned the google chrome home page using Figma and documented it on my youtube channel(Techrud Dev). The goal was to come with a design that was minimalistic and highlighted the important features all while preserving all the elements and assets from the original site. I also made prototypes using figma which can be seen on my behance.

Bluecorn Web Services, Product Design & Frontend Development

I started a web design,development & consultancy company and have had the pleasure of working with a number of clients through the company.At the company I cover different roles including Product Design, Web development and Copywriting.
